

Statement of Proposal

AMENDMENTS TO THE FEES AND CHARGES under the BUILDING ACT 2004

Commencing 1 July 2020

A2342140

1. Nelson City Council's proposed amendments to fees and charges under the Building Act 2004

Nelson City Council (Council) would like to know what you think of the proposed amendments to the fees and charges relating to building consent applications, inspections and other services provided by the Building Unit.

The current fees and charges came into effect on 1 July 2019 (although prior to this date the changes have been minor compared to the level of fees and charges from five years ago). The fees and charges were set to ensure those who benefit from the services pay a fair and reasonable share of the costs of these services.

Council has reviewed these fees and is proposing some changes as described below. We want to know what you think of the proposed changes. In making decisions on this proposal, Council will be taking account of all submissions made.

The proposed fees and charges are attached to this Statement of Proposal as Attachment 1 along with the current fees and charges at Attachment 2. Paper copies of this document are available at the Council's Customer Service Centre and in Nelson libraries.

2. The Proposal

Detailed analysis of the issues and options is set out in section 4 of this proposal. The fees and charges schedule with proposed changes are included in Attachment 1. A summary of the proposed amendments is outlined below:

- a) Increase the hourly charge out rate for administrators from $100 per hour to $160 per hour
- b) Increase the hourly charge out rate for residential technical officers from $135 per hour to $160 per hour
- c) Change the fee for Project Information Memorandums from $150 to an hourly charge out rate of $160
- d) Include a computer system fee per consent based on the estimated value of the works:
 - A $75 fee for works up to $10,000 in value
 - $125 for works between $10,001 and $800,000 in value and
 - $250 for works over $800,000 in value
- e) Include the earthquake prone building fees in the schedule (application for exemption, extension of time for a heritage building and assessment of information relating to a building's status) with a $610 deposit.
- f) Increase the quality assurance levy from $1 to $2.50 per $1,000 of the estimated value of the works (applies when the value of works is $20,000 and over and is capped at $10 million)
- g) Increase the insurance levy from $0.75 to $1.50 per $1,000 of the estimated value of the works (applies when the value of works is $20,000 and over and is capped at $10 million)
- h) Reduce the Ministry for Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) levy from $2.01 to $1.75 per $1,000 of the estimated value of the works (applies when the value of works is $20,444 and over)
- i) Change the fixed fee/deposit combinations to deposits and most of these will increase to reflect the average time to complete the task.

The objective of the proposal is to review current fees under the Building Act 2004 relating to building consent applications, inspections and other services provided by the Building Unit, to make any necessary changes to better reflect the actual cost to Council in providing this service and to ensure reasonable cost recovery goals can be met.

Consideration under the relevant legislation

This Statement of Proposal to amend the fees and charges under the Building Act 2004 has been prepared in accordance with the following legislation:

- Building Act 2004, sections 219 and 281A
- Local Government Act 2002 (LGA), sections 83 and 101(3)

Section 101(3) of the Local Government Act 2002 provides that charges for regulatory functions are to be cost-effective, with the purpose of recovering the reasonable costs incurred by the Council in respect of the activity to which the charge relates, with those gaining the benefit from the regulatory service paying the reasonable cost for that service.

Section 219 of the Building Act enables a territorial authority to impose fees or charges in relation to a building consent and for the performance of any other function or service under the Building Act.

Section 281A of the Building Act 2004 gives a territorial authority discretion as to how fees or charges are charged or set and how they may be paid or collected.

Public consultation in the form of a special consultative procedure is not a requirement under the Building Act before fees and charges can be imposed. However, Council is running a special consultative procedure in this instance given it is also consulting on a number of other fees and charges at the same time. When used section 83 of the LGA provides that the special consultative procedure must include:

- A statement of proposal (and a summary of it if required) being made as widely available as practicable as a basis for consultation (section 83(1)(c)). The statement of proposal must include a statement of the reasons for the proposal, an analysis of the reasonably practicable options and any other information the local authority identifies as relevant (section 87(3)).
- An identified consultation period of at least one month during which feedback on the proposal may be provided to Council (section 83(b)(iii)).
- An opportunity for people to present their views to the Council (section 83(d)) and a description of how Council will provide persons interested in the proposal with an opportunity to present their views (section 83(b)(ii)).

Special Consultative Procedure

Outcomes of this special consultative procedure could include:

- Retaining the existing fees and charges
- Adopting the proposed amendments outlined in this Statement of Proposal, or a variation of these, based on community feedback
- Increasing the fees and charges at a lower level than the proposed increases

3. The Approach to Fees and Charges

Council's current charging structure for building consent applications and other services is based on applicants lodging an initial sum of money determined by the nature or the estimated value of the works. This is credited to the applicant's account. As the application is processed those processing costs are debited against the applicant's account.

The cost of the processing is based on:

- a) The time spent by Council staff and any specialist advisers assessing the application; and
- b) The hourly charge out rate or the consultant charges (if external expertise is required); and
- c) Administrative costs; and
- d) Various levies if relevant.

When the processing is completed, the costs are calculated, and further payment is sent if the costs exceed the amount of the initial fixed charge. Inspections are charged at the hourly charge out rate based on each required inspection taking one hour. If additional time or additional inspections are required these will be charged separately.

4. Issues and Options

Council's Building Unit is responsible for carrying out many of Council's functions as a Building Consent Authority (BCA) including issuing building consents, inspecting building work and issuing property information (e.g. project information memoranda). BCAs are audited by International Accreditation New Zealand (IANZ) every two years or annually as required. Nelson City Council's audit is currently on an annual rotation. Increased staff time and training is required to meet audit requirements that has not been accounted for in current budgets.

Contractors have also been used more regularly in the last two years to assist with the processing of consents. This has increased costs to the Building Unit.

Some of the Council's current fees and charges are lower than those imposed by other territorial authorities of similar size for the same work. For example, Council's technical charge out rate (currently $135) is well below that of Napier ($165), New Plymouth ($168) and Palmerston North ($184) despite staff having the same levels of qualifications.

The current time allowance and hourly charge out rate when processing Project Information Memorandums (PIMs) does not reflect the actual time required to carry out this service and the proposed hourly charge out rate.

The computer processing systems provider charge Council $125 per consent. This charge is not currently being on-charged to the consent applicant.

The earthquake prone building (EPB) assessments are ratepayer funded. It is proposed to charge for EPB applications for exemption, extension of time for a heritage building and assessment of information submitted relating to an EPB status as these activities are triggered by the individual owner for their benefit.

The current Quality Assurance levy is not recovering the costs of performing this function. The insurance levy needs to increase to better cover legal fees and claims. The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) levy has decreased and this needs to be reflected in the schedule.

The current fees have a fixed fee amount and a deposit amount. The fixed fee is not a maximum as notes explain additional charges can apply where the time involved exceeded the assumed time that the fixed fee was based on. It is considered clearer and less confusing to just have deposits and hourly charge out rates listed with an indication of estimated costs for a variety of building work categories provided on the website.

Hourly rate

The current hourly charge out rate will not cover the increased costs required to attain and maintain national quality assurance requirements. Some of the current charges do not cover the actual costs of providing the service. Increasing charges so that consent applicants pay a greater share of these costs than ratepayers is considered reasonable.

All Building Unit services involve technical staff (consent processors, planning checks and inspectors) and administration staff. The amount of time required by staff from each component can vary with staff workload management issues so to be fair to all customers it is considered reasonable to have one charge out rate for both. It is proposed to increase the hourly charge out rate to $160 as this rate will better cover actual costs of providing the services (staff time and overheads) and is a reasonable rate when compared to some other Council charges (up to $210 per hour).

The change from a fee of $150 for Project Information Memorandums to an hourly charge out rate of $160 better reflects the variability involved in the different projects.

Computer system fee

The Council incurs a charge of $125 per building consent application from the computer system provider for building unit processes. It is proposed to on-charge this amount to building consent applicants in a graduated manner based on the value of the proposed works.

Earthquake prone building fees

Council currently meets the costs for initial earthquake prone building assessments through ratepayer funding on the basis that this information is beneficial to the entire community. However, Council proposes to introduce charges for applications for exemptions, extensions of time and assessments of status based on further information. This is because these costs have a direct benefit to individual building owners (rather than the community as a whole). On this basis, Council considers it is fair and reasonable that building owners meet the costs of these services.

Levies

The quality assurance levy is designed to cover the cost of ensuring all processes, documents and training of staff meet national audit requirements. The costs of this function are not being met by the current charge and an increase is proposed to meet the increase in staff time needed to meet the audit requirements. The levy is linked to the value of building work as more complex building work requires a higher level of assessment, training and documentation requirements.

The insurance levy needs to increase to cover the actual costs of legal fees and claims associated with building consent processing.

The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment has reduced their levy under section 53 of the Building Act 2004, so a reduction is proposed in the schedule of fees and charges.

Fixed charges/deposits

The current schedule has both a fixed fee and deposit component for some activities. The fixed fee component includes a note that additional charges may be incurred should the anticipated time to perform that task be exceeded.

For transparency, Council proposes to instead list the deposit amount and the hourly charge out rate that will apply for any time spent above that covered by the deposit amount. Council also proposes to increase most deposits to reflect the increase in the hourly charge out rate and to better reflect the actual time for those functions.

Assessment

In exercising its discretion about what fees and charges to impose, Council should ensure charges are cost-effective, with the purpose of recovering the reasonable costs incurred by the Council in respect of the activity to which the charge relates, and with those gaining the benefit from the regulatory service paying the reasonable cost for that service.

Council considers that the proposed amendments that it is seeking your feedback on achieves this balance.

Options Analysis

Option 1 — Increase the fees and charges by a total of 18% as proposed in Attachment 1 and above

In addition to the reasons set out above, this option will help to achieve improved proportionality in terms of costs associated with building consents and performance of other Council functions under the Building Act 2004 being met by building customers rather than ratepayers. Council is incurring increased costs in providing building services and the proposed amendments will help achieve a higher rate of recovery for those costs. Council considers the proposed changes better reflects the average time taken to perform tasks and reduces the potential for large increases to fees and charges in the future.

Some of the increased costs incurred include the staff time and training required to prepare for and meet the requirements of the national audit. While staff are involved in this process contractors are needed to meet statutory processing timeframes and this also increases costs to Council.

Council appreciates that an increase to fees and charges may cause dissatisfaction to some customers. However, it considers that the proposed increases more fairly reflect the actual costs incurred by Council (currently met through rates), costs associated with processing, inspecting and compliance duties.

Option 2 — Increase the fees by CPI at 1.9%

While customers would not face the larger proposed increased fees and charges, this level of fees and charges will not reflect the average time to perform the activities. In addition customers obtaining the benefit of building services are not currently meeting the actual costs to Council in providing these services. If a small increase is made to fees and charges now, Council may need to impose a larger increase in the future. In addition, there will need to be an increase in funding from rates to meet the increase in actual costs.

Option 3 — Increase the fees and charges by a total of 12% with a staff hourly rate of $150

This will better ensure the budgeted recovery levels of the Building Unit are met compared to option 2, cover some of the costs of meeting national audit requirements and provide less dependence on rates. The rate will not be consistent with other Nelson City Council regulatory rates. The increase could potentially cause dissatisfaction to customers.

Preferred Option

Option 1 — Amend fees as proposed in Attachment 1 and outlined in section 4 above.

Reasons

The reasons for this option are outlined in sections 2 and 4 above. In summary:

- Higher costs are anticipated to address feedback from IANZ and maintain Council's Building Consent Authority accreditation;
- Many fees and charges are below the actual cost to Council because they do not reflect realistic time allowances; and
- Many fees and charges are out of step (being too low) when compared with those imposed by other territorial authorities of similar sizes for the same work.

Current Building Unit fees and charges

General Information Regarding Building Control Authority Fees and Charges

Other fees and levies may apply to any building consent or certificate of acceptance

Charges for 'Fixed Fee Building Consents' do not include 'Fixed Levies' (see section 1) or compliance schedules charges (see section 7) where applicable.

Development and financial contributions

Building consents may also incur development and/or financial contributions (see website information - http://www.nelson.govt.nz/building-and-property/property-land-use/development-and-financial-contributions/

Deposit fee payable at lodgement (based on value of work)

The deposit (full fee) is required at time of lodgement on work valued up to $49,999 for all building work which is not commercial. A deposit is required on all other application lodgements for building work.

Where a residential application deposit is paid, the remainder of the fixed fee must be paid prior to release of the issued building consent.

Due the varied nature of commercial work, these consents are a time charged fee and require a deposit at time of lodgement. Payment for time incurred to date plus the estimated inspections cost will be invoiced when the consent is issued. Any additional inspections or re-inspections will be charged prior to issue of a code compliance certificate.

Limitations of 'Fixed Fee' and 'fair and reasonable time use' (Section 219(2) of the Building Act 2004)

The 'Fixed Fee' system is based on reasonable time to complete processing and inspections.

Poor quality and/or insufficient information requiring additional processing time and/or failed, missed, or additional inspections will likely incur additional costs. These additional charges will be notified to the agent and owner and must be paid prior to the issue of building consent or code compliance certificate (as applicable).

Additional charges: will be invoiced and must be paid within one month of the invoice date.

All outstanding debts must be paid prior to the issue of a code compliance certificate.

Formal Amendments: All amendments to building consents incur a submission cost and then the hourly rate for Building Officer and administration time incurred over and above the initial fee charged.

Determinations, lapsed consents and consents without code compliance certificates (CCC) will all be charged at hourly rate

Determinations: Preparation of submission(s) for determination prior to signing Form D2 for the Ministry of Building Innovation and Employment.

Lapsed consents: 12 months from the date of issue, the building consent will lapse under section 52 of the Building Act 2004, if work has not commenced. Consents can be extended, prior to lapsing date, for a further period as approved by the Building Consent Authority.

Code compliance certificates (CCC) that have not been issued within two years: Under section 93 of the Building Act, the Building Consent Authority must decide whether it can issue a code compliance certificate at 24 months from granting date.

Code compliance certificates (CCC) applications on older properties: Where a consent is over four years old additional work is required to decide if a code compliance certificate can be issued. This includes meeting with the customer, desk top review of the file, any letters, final inspection, administration time and any other works. Additional costs will be levied (charged per hour) to cover this work.
